Please complete the above list of thirty (30) colleges, in their entirety. DO YOUR RESEARCH with each program and “be certain” it’s a school that you would want to attend. If you have a school on here, then you decide it’s not a good fit after a college coach wastes his time wanting to recruit you, it’s not going to look good....on either of us. Allow family members to help with research, if needed. We will always begin with your list, then branch out with mine, which consists of 700+ coaches in over 500 programs across the country. All the best, boys!
